

GreenBowMusic

Everyday music for people who love music.

Tia Imani Hanna

Jazz Violinist, Vocalist,
Composer, Clinician

www.greenbowmusic.com

(517) 256-9647

Welcome to Green Bow Music

Our commitment and promise is to bring people together to appreciate that we are all everyday musicians. Music lives in all of us. We at Green Bow Music are passionate about making music accessible and available through education, production, performance, and community involvement.

Current Workshops and Classes offered:

Everyday Music

About this workshop:

Learn how to hear your internal muse and express that voice.

- Play musical improvisational games.
- Share healing energy with other group members.
- Generate musical compositions expressing peace and unity.
- Play with sound.

This workshop uses a series of musical games and exercises to create a functional format and safe environment for everyday musicians (all of us) to challenge ourselves to hear our internal voices and express ourselves through sound.

This workshop is for anyone who loves music.

There is some basic, gentle movement and participants should wear loose and comfortable clothing. Lots of fun, laughter and great music will ensue.

This workshop is available for ages 10 – 100+ yrs.

Group Classes

General Music

Feel the joy of being able to read music in your choir or to write and transpose music of a song you have been humming. You can feel the strength of saying "I wrote that."

This 8-week seminar will teach you:

- Basics of notation, major scales, minor and harmonic scales.
- Note identification on the piano keyboard.
- You will also learn musical vocabulary so that you can understand the lingo and no longer feel intimidated.

This class is also available for schools and continuing education venues.

Beginning Sight-Singing Group Class

This class is for vocalists who have never learned to read music.

8 weeks of classes will cover the following:

- Sight-Singing
- Basics of notation, major scales, minor and harmonic scales.
- Note identification on the piano keyboard.
- You will also learn musical vocabulary so that you can understand the lingo and no longer feel intimidated.

Private Lessons

$55/hr, by appointment only

Private vocal lessons, Beginning and intermediate ages 15 years and up

Breathing techniques; improvisation; sight-singing and basic notation.

Private violin lessons, with an emphasis on beginning violin for adults and teenagers (beginning and intermediate) – 1 hour only

Private lessons (advanced) $75

90-minutes only

Focus on improvisation and presentation

Ages 15 years and up.

Class Offerings 2010-2011

Drop-In Class

Everyday Music* Workshop $12 per (cash only)

Pre- paid 4 sessions $40

Classes now forming

Please contact Tia Hanna

For dates and times

This class is also available in pre-paid packages of four at www.greenbowmusic.com.

Sight Singing and General Music classes

8 weeks

$135 (Includes materials packet)

Packet Includes:

Workbook Practical Theory Complete

by Sandy Feldstein, Alfred Publishing Co.

Wedge Book Sight-Singing book

Piano Keyboard chart

General Music

Classes now forming

Please contact Tia Hanna

For dates and times

Sight-Singing

Classes now forming

Please contact Tia Hanna

For dates and times

All classes will be held at Art Alley

1133 S. Washington Ave. Lansing, MI 48910

Classes will be available for pre-registration at

www.greenbowmusic.com

What people are saying about General Music

"Tia helped to make my voice become alive with heartfelt sound. Her expert way of teaching music is awesome. I learned so much from her that my appreciation and love for music has soared beyond my wildest dreams."

—Janice Welsh

"Tia is an exceptional teacher of people...not just music and voice. She focuses on the people, not just the subject material. She recognizes peoples' needs and responds promptly and effectively so they learn and enjoy it. Thanks, Tia."

—Terry Welsh

"Tia, you convey your knowledge of music on various levels so that it is easier to learn. I've enjoyed the practical exercises that you've taught our choir to improve as individuals and as a group. Thank you for your positive outlook and attitude." —Graciela Underwood

"Tia, I don't think anyone knows this, but I always secretly wanted to learn how to read music! Now that you are teaching me, what I thought to be difficult, you have made simple. Thank you!"

—Alice P

"Ms. Tia Imani Hanna has patiently and successfully worked on reviving my general musical knowledge, ear training and vocal skills. I was not sure of how to, or if I could, resurrect these on my own. Thank you so much for what you do!"

—Roger G., Lansing, Michigan

What people are saying about Everyday Music

“I loved your class and enjoyed it immensely. I am sixty-three years old. My eight and half year old granddaughter enjoyed it too. Your passion for music, your peace and joy are truly amazing. Keep up the good work!”

—Kathy Mercier, Davidson, Michigan

“Tia is an intuitive, organized, and inspiring teacher. I came away from the workshop feeling more confident in my own singing, as well as gaining ideas to use during my Soul Singing workshops and with the Vigil Singing group I sing with.”

—Janice Marsh-Prelesnik

“Tia, in your class, I learned to make a joyful noise. In a short four weeks, I was singing in front of people with no problem, singing out loud, solo. I was playing with sound. I was feeling it. The vocal exercises you taught me, I still use. Your class is invaluable to anyone who uses their voice, and that's all of us.”

—Dedria H. Barker

“Although I'm that guy who is best described as ‘can't carry a tune in a basket,’ I enjoyed your class mainly because of your energy and enthusiasm for getting your message across. After your class I'm thinking of taking piano lessons. Thank you.”

—Don Price